Financial Consumer Protection for Underserved Segments Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Microfinance & Financial Inclusion	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Financial services for underserved segments, including low-income populations and rural communities, are critical for promoting financial inclusion and socio-economic development. However, these segments are particularly vulnerable to unfair practices, mis-selling, over-indebtedness, and lack of awareness regarding their financial rights. Protecting these consumers is essential to build trust, improve financial literacy, and ensure sustainable adoption of digital financial services (DFS) and microfinance products.

Financial Consumer Protection for Underserved Segments Training Course provides participants with practical knowledge, regulatory insights, and actionable strategies to implement effective consumer protection frameworks for underserved segments. Using real-world case studies, exercises, and global best practices, participants will learn to develop inclusive financial products, ensure transparency, educate clients, monitor compliance, and mitigate risks, ultimately fostering safe and equitable access to financial services.
