

Gender-Based Violence Prevention at Work Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Trade Unions	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Gender-Based Violence Prevention at Work Training Course provides a robust framework to address the complexities of workplace harassment, technology-facilitated abuse, and the interconnectedness of domestic violence and professional productivity. By integrating intersectional analysis and trauma-informed responses, organizations can dismantle the structural power imbalances that allow GBV to persist, ensuring a dignified environment for all employees regardless of gender identity or expression.

In 2026, the "business case" for GBV prevention is undeniable: addressing these issues directly mitigates legal risk, reduces talent attrition, and strengthens brand integrity. This course moves beyond "check-the-box" modules to foster active allyship and leadership accountability. Participants will engage with evidence-based interventions designed to shift workplace norms, moving from mere awareness to measurable action. Through this curriculum, the organization commits to a zero-tolerance reality, transforming the workplace into a safe haven that prioritizes the well-being and human rights of its most valuable asset its people.

Course Duration

5 days

Course Objectives

1. Articulate the spectrum of GBV, including coercive control, economic abuse, and micro-invalidations.
2. Navigate 2026 regional and international labor law frameworks (e.g., ILO Convention 190).
3. Master the 5Ds of Intervention (Direct, Distract, Delegate, Delay, Document) to interrupt harm safely.
4. Recognize and mitigate technology-facilitated GBV, such as cyber-stalking and non-consensual image sharing.
5. Implement first-response protocols that prioritize confidentiality, safety, and agency.
6. Examine the roles of patriarchy, toxic masculinity, and unconscious bias in the workplace.
7. Analyze how GBV affects individuals differently based on race, disability, and sexual orientation.
8. Develop strategies for supporting employees experiencing intimate partner violence at home.
9. Translate "paper policies" into active reporting mechanisms that employees trust.
10. Equip managers to model inclusive behaviors and enforce consequences fairly.
11. Conduct gender-sensitive audits to identify physical and psychological "hotspots" for risk.
12. Understand the trauma-impact of GBV on cognitive performance and psychological safety.
13. Use ethical data collection to track the effectiveness of prevention initiatives.
