Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Demography and Population Studies	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Migration is a complex global phenomenon shaped by economic, social, political, and environmental factors. Understanding migration through a gender lens is critical for designing inclusive policies, programs, and interventions that address the unique needs and experiences of women, men, and non-binary individuals. This course emphasizes the intersectionality of gender with migration, highlighting how inequalities, social norms, and power dynamics influence mobility patterns, access to services, and protection mechanisms. Participants will gain practical skills and theoretical knowledge to analyze migration trends, identify vulnerabilities, and implement effective gender-responsive strategies.

Gender Perspectives in Migration Training Course equips policymakers, humanitarian actors, and development practitioners with cutting-edge tools and frameworks to integrate gender considerations in migration management. Leveraging case studies, interactive sessions, and evidence-based methodologies, participants will explore the challenges faced by migrants of diverse genders, examine policy implications, and develop practical solutions. This course is designed to foster collaboration, enhance critical thinking, and build capacity for equitable and sustainable migration management.
