

Gender-Sensitive ESG Reporting in Mining Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	General Training	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Gender-Sensitive ESG Reporting in Mining Training Course is designed to equip professionals in the mining sector with advanced competencies in ESG reporting, with a specialized focus on gender inclusivity, equity, and sustainable development compliance. As global mining operations face increasing pressure from investors, regulators, and communities, integrating gender-responsive ESG frameworks, sustainability disclosure standards, and diversity-driven risk management has become essential. This course emphasizes the intersection of responsible mining, human rights due diligence, women empowerment in extractives, and climate-aligned ESG metrics, ensuring organizations meet both compliance and ethical governance expectations.

With the rise of net-zero commitments, sustainable finance, and stakeholder capitalism, mining companies are expected to produce transparent ESG reports that reflect not only environmental impact but also social equity indicators such as gender pay gap, female workforce participation, leadership representation, and community impact assessments. This training integrates real-world case studies, data-driven ESG analytics, and gender mainstreaming strategies to strengthen corporate accountability. Participants will learn how to align mining operations with UN Sustainable Development Goals while improving investor confidence, ESG ratings, and long-term operational sustainability.
