Course Introduction

In the rapidly evolving global education landscape, Educational Leadership for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) is pivotal for driving transformation in institutions and communities. Training Course on Educational Leadership for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) equips educational leaders, policymakers, and administrators with cutting-edge strategies to align education systems with the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. Participants will gain essential skills in strategic leadership, policy innovation, and inclusive education frameworks to champion sustainability-driven educational reforms.

Through actionable insights, interactive case studies, and evidence-based practices, this program empowers leaders to integrate SDGs in education policy, foster transformative leadership, and implement education for sustainable development (ESD) models. By enhancing capacity in policy alignment, curriculum transformation, and equity-driven leadership, participants can ensure their institutions actively contribute to global sustainability efforts.
